

“16 Days of Activism Against Gender Violence”

FAWU will host an event in which our members and staff will participate in the campaign against violence against women, children, men, and youth on 25 November 2010. The event is in line with the international campaign “365 days of action to end Gender violence” and as adopted at the Gender Violence Conference of May 2006 in South Africa. During this conference, a declaration was adopted in which a broad section of South Africans committed themselves to join campaigns for the eradication of gross human violations.

During the declaration it was declared that each year, the sixteen- day campaign on Gender violence would become a platform to create awareness and take stock of gaps and achievements, to ensure sustained, measured effort to end gender violence.
